

OUR IMPACT

The Colored Pencil Project brings color, light, and the joy of creation to under-served children around the globe.

What sort of impact does The Colored Pencil Project have?

Internationally

- 800 children in South Africa
- 1,000 children in India
- 700 children in Haiti
- 1,300 children in Colombia and Peru
- 2,000 children in Cambodia

Locally

- 900 children in New England participated in our art workshops
- 300 high schoolers participated in our concert choir performance
- Exhibits of the artwork created by the international children The Colored Pencil Project has reached

Interested in having The Colored Pencil Project do an art workshop with your school or group? Contact us at education@thecoloredpencilproject.org

Join in our efforts to bring color and light to young lives through artistic expression

CONTACT US

bethr@thecoloredpencilproject.org

THE
colored pencil
PROJECT.ORG

PO Box 171269
Boston, MA 02117

coloring
ALL CORNERS OF
THE WORLD

THE
colored pencil
PROJECT

OUR MISSION

The Colored Pencil Project believes that art is the perfect way for children to communicate their experiences, hopes, and dreams.

As a non-profit organization, we aim to increase the access of art supplies to children in developing countries by distributing art supplies and administering art workshops to children in various orphanages, schools and rural villages. Our international art workshops engage children in the power of self-expression.

By bringing the dreams belonging to these children back to the United States in the form of pictures. The Colored Pencil Project hopes to foster global understanding and goodwill through local art workshops and exhibits.

THE COLOR OF HOPE

Children need a voice.
They need tools for expression,
tools to tell their story.

The United States, which is home to just 4% of the world's population aged 5 to 25 years, accounts for more than one-quarter of the global education budget.

The United States spends almost as much as that of all governments in six regions combined: the Arab States, Central and Eastern Europe, Central Asia, Latin America and the Caribbean, South and West Asia and sub-Saharan Africa.

Governments in sub-Saharan Africa spend only 2.4% of the world's education resources for 15% of the school age population.

According to estimates, the education budget of a single country like France, Germany or Italy outweighs the education expenditure in the entire sub-Saharan African region combined.

(The above statistics were highlighted in UNESCO's Comparing Education Statistics Across the World)

GET INVOLVED

Support The Colored Pencil Project.

Make a donation.

All donations are 100% tax-deductible.

Host a colored pencil drive.

Get your friends, family, or co-workers involved. Host an art supply drive at your school or work, collecting colored pencils and sharpeners which will go toward upcoming projects and workshops.

Interested in volunteering?

We are always looking for help with various programs.

For more information on how to get involved visit

THE
colored pencil
PROJECT.ORG